The Office of International Affairs is charged with leading the campus-wide coordination of international efforts. The Office of International Affairs administers the University’s study abroad, internship programs, and international exchange agreements, providing advising and support for international students and faculty, as well as overseeing the operations of the Mills International Center, and AHA International. The university enrolls more than 2,000 international students from nearly 90 countries, and sponsors 165 study abroad programs in about 90 countries. More than 1,000 UO students participate in study or internships abroad each year. AHA International, located in Portland, OR, is a study abroad program provider offering programs in Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, and Oceania.
